PROBLEM

The existing problem with NFT Play-to-Earn Games is that many of them are developed and marketed with more focus on money-making and tradability. They lure the players by providing rewards initially. But just after a month or so, their currency starts to lose its credibility, or they would pull their game out of the web. The weak reward model makes the in-game stability of currency a big problem.

SOLUTION

To bring stability, the best solution is to switch to "GUERDON VICTOR". The issues with in-game flow of currency is completely resolved. The players are made partners in this game. So the currency flowing in the game will have its credibility forever. The currency earned by the "VICTOR" would be the player's prize for defeating the opponent. To improve the game from the gamers' point of view, there will be regular addition of features. Just keep following these steps: Kill your opponent, earn rewards and become a victor.

INTRODUCTION TO 'GUERDON VICTOR'

It's is one of the best skill based PvP NFT Combat Game based on new reward model K2E (Kill-to-Earn) which captures the essence of classic games like Tekken and Mortal Kombat. It is built on Binance Smart Chain Network and is developed in Unreal Engine. Here you can earn rewards based on your strategy, intellectual gameplay, and proper engagement.

The game has made quite a fresh entry into the NFT gaming zone. The main idea behind the game development is entertainment and involvement of the gamers. To provide the gamers with the best combat gaming experiences, there will be new features added to the game periodically. So the players can remain engaged, and the game becomes even more interesting.

GAME MODEL

Unlike Play-to-Earn NFT games, this game gives you the opportunity to have a stable earning and a reliable currency. You don't have to do any breeding, farming, planting, staking, hatching, lending, etc.

Each player will stake one '$VICT' coin to play the game and winner will be rewarded by opponent's coin. There will be 3 levels in the fight, the winner of 2 rounds will be the "VICTOR".

LEADERBOARD

Everyday there will be a number of fights happening in real-time. Only the top 9 winners will be listed on the leaderboard. This list will be updated every Friday. You can try your best every day to reach the top position.

TOURNAMENTS

Game V2.0 - 'The Last Orc Standing', will conduct daily tournament for only 9 unique character players. Each player has to pay two $VICT coins to participate and the winner will be rewarded by 10 $VICT coins.
